 - c. Pause the game (and unpause it again)
 - d. Open the achievement screen (and close it again)

 - f. We'll guide them into the basement, then ask them to escape the basement.

d14b - Observations

Participant 1:

Participant 2:

Didn't know how to continue the game, a little confused with controls. when running make it more obvious - can sprint in the basement good observation. The game is a bit confusing - didn't realise how much time was being lost - very frustrating the time loss with sprinting (make it clear that you can't run in morrell?). Audio variety - sounds very scenic song choice not the best.

Giving enchanted library.

Participant 4:

Understands the controls , interacted with vending machine - knows what happened,
Interacted with glasses didn't know what happened
Didn't understand falling into basement - knows about the torch and sprinting in basement
Torch doesn't need to be taken away
Didn't explore fairhurst
1:24sec.

1. Yes aware of vending machine
2. Didn't see the glasses - wasn't aware of what they did - can make it more obvious the difference between glasses and vending machines. Move the glasses position

Participant 5:

Settings aren't implemented. Too many instructions - maybe introduce them throughout the game. Found Glasses, and understood that they increased vision. Can't interact with books, understands that you navigate around them. Can't read writing, too small. Didn't understand falling into the basement. Interacted with the torch. Found basement key. The objective of the game is unclear. Getting lost in the basement but still escaped quickly. Interacted with Vending Machine, understood that they received an energy drink. Finishing is intuitive but not obvious. 3:08 seconds. Maybe change the winning screen to not say game over. Visual instructions in HUD would be a good idea. The game is fun overall! Difficult to navigate achievements. Volume was down so they didn't interact with sounds. Didn't explore Fairhurst
